

THE NATHANSON CENTRE PRESENTS

Taming States: Democratic Norms and Constituent Power in the East African Court of Justice

Kevin W. Gray
Osgoode Hall Law School

Kevin W. Gray is a JD candidate at Osgoode Hall Law School. He was previously a visiting scholar in philosophy at Boston College and the University of Frankfurt, and in law at Osgoode Hall Law School and the Faculty of Law at the University of Toronto, and was Assistant Professor of International Studies (with tenure) and Director of the Gulf Studies Center at the American University of Sharjah (AUS). He received his PhD from Laval University in Legal and political philosophy (2010). He is currently writing a monograph with Thomas W. Simon, entitled the Birth and Death of Legal Radicalism (under contract with Springer), and is the international law area editor of the Springer Encyclopaedia of Territorial Rights. His articles have appeared in Philosophia, Ancilla Iuris, Critical Horizons, amongst other journals.

November 20, 2019
12:30- 2:30

Room 2027, Osgoode
Hall Law School