

Nelson Waweru, Professor, School of Administrative Studies, LA&PS

My research interest is in Earnings Management, Disclosure, Corporate Governance and Management Control Systems in emerging and frontier financial markets of Africa. I am mainly interested in looking at how academic wisdom can create value to business and government. As a professional accountant (CPA, CMA) balance is very important. My focus has tilted towards research when not involved in major service roles at York University; but teaching and mentoring/training young researches in Africa has always been a priority to me.
